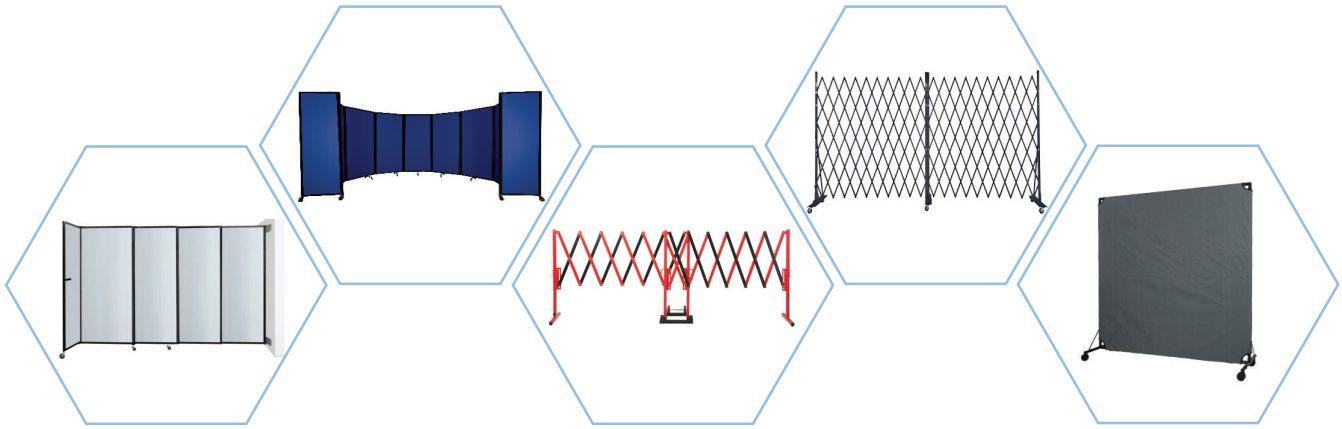
FLEXIBLE DESIGN SOLUTIONS

Every community needs a dynamic environment for gathering. When considering that gathering spaces must have multiple functions, the obvious challenge is how to adapt that space to the needs of each group and personalities within those groups. The key to meet all of these needs is flexibility. A more flexible and adaptable space allows your community to tailor their environment to the purpose of each gathering. For example, sections can be cordoned off for quiet reading, group discussions or organizing activities for multiple groups.

OUR SOLUTIONS


Portable room dividers provide a physical barrier as well as noise reduction properties that offer seclusion and removes potential distractions within a meeting space. They provide an environment that promotes productivity instead of derail it. By using mobile dividers, one multi-purpose room can be transformed into a dual activity space, a group discussion area, break-out space or a one-on-one area in a matter of seconds. Portable dividers also open the door for a variety of space options beyond stationary classroom style sections. We also offer sound control in a variety of forms. Ask us for details today!
