FLEXIBLE DESIGN SOLUTIONS

Every outdoor space can be dynamic and beautiful. When considering the layout of your outdoor space, the obvious challenge is how to adapt that space to the needs of all the activities it may be used for and keep it feeling natural. The key to meet all of these needs is flexibility. A more flexible and adaptable space allows you to tailor the environment to the purpose of each activity. Our matching pieces offer that flexibility. For example, sections can be cordoned off in a snap for an intimate get together, a space to do your daily routine away from neighbors or organizing incoming groups of people to a business such as an outdoor patio at a restaurant. You can even hide waste containers, pool equipment or air conditioners and your guests will never know the difference.

OUR SOLUTIONS

Portable outdoor room dividers provide a physical barrier with charm that offers seclusion and removes potential distractions to your zen design. Three and five panel partitions can even be staked into the ground as a more permanent solution.
